Sr. M. Perpetua's Message

Another year has almost ended and, as usual, it seems no time since it began — a sign that it has been a busy but happy one for me and, I hope, for all those who form part of the Newman Siena community.

This year is a special one in that it is twenty five years since the College opened as a school for girls with an enrolment of eighty students. Much growth and many changes have occurred since then. Each year, in fact, brings changes in the school scene and, if the changes are good, then there will always be progress and growth.

For Newman Siena, as for most Western Australian High Schools, this year has been one of preparation for the change from a Curriculum based on the Achievement Certificate requirements to a Unit Curriculum where every subject in the course of Studies will be unitized. Our decision to make this change follows from the recommendation of the Beazley Report and has required considerable work on the part of all members of Staff. It is a change which we expect to be very beneficial to the students.

At the College, the Staff continues to make every effort to provide an atmosphere of loving care and concern for each student and to encourage the pursuit of excellence in every area.

We enjoy our contact with the families of our students and we appreciate the spirit of cooperation which exists between parents and teachers and which makes it possible to obtain the best from the students.

I am grateful to all those who are able to assist us in any way — in the Canteen, on our various Committees, with sporting groups and in a variety of other ways.

We appreciate, too, the happiness that the majority of students exhibit and their efforts to grow in maturity and responsibility while they are home.

My sincere thanks go to all at this time — students, parents and staff. As we approach the lovely Christmas season with its message of hope and peace and love, may I wish you all much joy and peace.

Sr. M. Perpetua

Deputy Principal's Message.

Brother David alias "Dino".

Brother David Facci — Deputy Principal

After having taught School in Bunbury, Northam, Subiaco and being involved in the process of transferring our Marist Junior School in Subiaco to its present site in Churchlands, I left Perth in 1976, to take up a teaching position in N.S.W. and the Mount Gambier, South Australia.

After an absence of ten years, I was delighted to be appointed Deputy Principal at Newman Siena College. One of the things that made rather special for me is the fact that I am teaching some of my former students' sons and daughters. School life is very busy these days, but I feel our role as educators is to cater for the many and varied interests of the students. At Newman Siena a lot has been arranged in this area, and that is why I found our Year 8 and 9 camps, excursions, discos and retreats very interesting and meaningful. Students appreciate the involvement of teachers outside the daily school routine, and I have found this aspect of education here at Newman Siena most rewarding. I have appreciated, greatly, the dedicated leadership of Sister Perpetua, she has the interests and welfare of all the students at heart, as have all the members of a very professional and hard-working staff, and I look forward to next year with keenness and enthusiasm.

I pray that the period of Christmas will be a beautiful and meaningful time for all families.

As the 1987 School year draws to a close, we can look back on it with gratitude. It's been a memorable year for all and one that has locked kindly down upon us. The students strived to achieve their academic and spiritual goals with zest.

The year began with the arrival of our new Deputy Principal, Br. David Facci, and our new Teachers, Mrs Leavitt (Art), Miss Irvine (Science), Miss Mulder (Art), Mr Rankin (Physical Education), Mrs Watson (Maths) and Mr Webb (Technical Drawing). Mr Eric Pearce, left for the farm life half way through the year and Mrs Allan arrived to assist Mrs Gionea. The Year 8 students were introduced to the School Curriculum and began the year with enthusiasm. Now they have settled in and are ready to take the Senior Grade of the campus.

This year's Religious Seminars were a great success and those involved received a greater enrichment of their spiritual sense.

The first main sporting event of the year was the A.C.C. Swimming Carnival which Newman won and hence retained its title as Champion School. The cheersquad put in a fantastic effort and could not be spared on any account.

The A.C.C. Athletics Carnival was just as inspiring as the Swimming Carnival. However, we were unlucky in having to accept defeat to John XXIII who just pipped us by a mere 65 points.

The Socials this year were nights enjoyed by all.

The Year 9's had a disco and the Year 8's participated in a 50's and 60's night.

This year was the first and only year to see the Year 8 and 9 students receive a camp. Both years experienced the Point Peron and Stoneville Campsites with enjoyment.

As the year 9 students leave Newman Siena College and the year 8 student move into the senior grade we would like to express our thanks to all those concerned in making this year a good one, especially to Sister Mary Perpetua for her support and guidance and to her Deputy, Brother David Facci.

25 .....

On the 24th of May 1962, Siena Girls College was opened. In the beginning, the school consisted of just a few classrooms where the administration block, R.E. Room, Rooms 1, 2, 3 and the staffroom are now. From these humble beginnings, the school was extended, to add more classrooms, the hall and options area until it reached its present proportions.

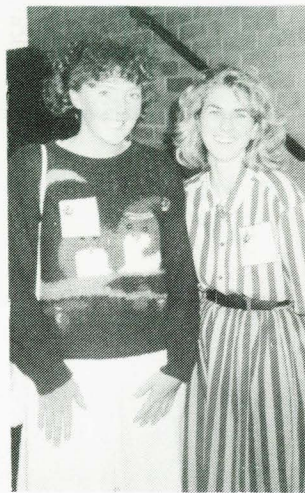

To celebrate the school's 25th anniversary, on Sunday the 24th of May a large number of ex-students came along to celebrate the Eucharist at the Holy Rosary Church. Some members of the Bethel Community and the Siena Choir came along to help out with the hymns. After the mass everyone went back to the Siena Hall for afternoon tea. Students from the earliest days attended as well as some of the present teachers and many prospective students there as well.

Morning Tea

Early in the School year the Ladies Auxiliary organised the Annual Ladies Morning Tea, with the intention of welcoming new Parents to Newman Siena College and giving them the opportunity of meeting the Staff.

Mrs Bev Cann and her Committee have worked tirelessly throughout 1987. They had the difficult task of organising Afternoon Tea for the Silver Jubilee of Newman Siena College. This function was a tremendous success because of the wholehearted support of the Newman Siena Community.

A delicious variety of foods and drinks were available to all in attendance.

School Board and P & F Report

The Parents' and Friends' Association Executive comprises a group of parents who meet on a regular basis throughout the School year to represent the views of the Parent body on any matters outside the responsibility of the School Board.

Expenditure of funds raised through parent participation in the P and F Levy is one area in which the Committee is most active and their recommendations over past years has seen the provision of a wide range of ancillary teaching equipment which may otherwise have not been available from normal budget funds. During 1987, the following items of major expenditure were authorised: Art Dept Kiln ($3000); Library Books and Equipment ($3000); Fans for Laboratories and Classrooms ($2000); Office Computer and Accessories ($3600); Film Strip Projector ($867); Insurance subsidy for School Camps ($500).

All parents connected with the School are automatically members of the Association and are encouraged to participate in the liaison between the Association and the School Administration.

THEATRE ARTS

After hours if not days of preparation, Siena was all prepared for the Rock Extravagansa of the year — steady rock performed by the theatre Arts Students. At lunch time, excitement was high as waves of frenzied fans flocked to the hall and crammed for a seat.

The first session went off extremely well with performance by such celebrated stars as Madonna (Sally Curtain) — Talking Heads (Chris Headland), — The Bangles (Steph, Maria, Jenny and Holly).

Due to overwhelming response a second session was scheduled and performed on the following day.

The Stars who shoed themselves here were the Blues Brothers (Brendan and Bradley), Olivia Newton John (Gemma Tognini) and the Beach Boys (Narelle, Jenny, Renata and Tina).

It was the first official fund raiser for the Missions and congratulations to all involved, especially Mrs. Lindsay who organized it.

Ballerina outpoints her rivals

At the tender age of nine months, Sally Parker, of Scarborough, made an impromptu debut on the stage of His Majesty's Theatre while her mother was dancing there.

Now aged 14 and a ballet dancer herself, she has just been awarded the prestigious WA Cecchetti Society scholarship.

The scholarship, which is awarded each year to an elementary ballet student, will allow Sally to continue her ballet studies.

"I was stunned — I wasn't expecting it," Sally said yesterday as she rehearsed at a city dance studio.

"I've always wanted to make dancing my career."

Ballet runs in the Parker family.

Sally's mother, Bonny, was a member of the WA Ballet and now runs a ballet school.

Apart from ballet which takes up a big part of her week, Sally is head girl at Newman Siena College, swims and plays netball.

The Cecchetti scholarship is in honour of the famous Italian dance master, Enriche Cecchetti.

Game, set and match — Donna takes all titles at beach comp

A 13-year-old girl walked away with all the trophies at the City Beach Tennis Club championships last week.

Donna Blackwell, of Bendigo Way, City Beach, won the women's singles, the under-18's singles, women's doubles with her mum Kaye, and mixed doubles with Mark Power.

Added to the triumph of winning the titles, Donna had the personal victory of beating her mother for the first time when they met in the semi-finals of the women's singles.

Donna, a Newman College student, began playing tennis four years ago at school.

A year later she was playing State tennis, as she still does.

Donna has been selected for the State team to compete in the Pizzey and Colgate cups in Sydney in May.

The City Beach ace is hoping for a career in tennis.

Donna's Tennis Achievements

1984 Donna won her first State Title — Age 10 years.

Year 8 Italian Food Feast

Project Sicily Mrs Biagi's Year 8 Italian Class focussed on this Island off the Italian mainland because of its uniqueness and colourful history.

Students made topographical replicas of Sicily and made traditionally cooked Sicilian dishes which were shared during the afternoon. Sister Perpetua congratulated the class on their efforts in providing the food and a colourful display. A few Italian phrases were heard being uttered during the course of the afternoon.

Debating

Debating — A very happy evening was spent last night listening to the Debates between our Year 8 and 9 students and Year 8 and 9 students of Hale School. The small but interested audience of parents and students who attended added to the enjoyment. Both Siena teams won their Debates by small margins but the boys from Hale were by no means disgraced. Through the efforts of Mr. Goldsmith from Hale and Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Leavitt from Siena the interest in Debating is growing and we hope to continue to have these Social Debates between the two schools.

Topics were: Has individuality been lost? for year 8 students.
The Future is in our Hands for Year 9 students

Tennis

Tennis can be good but also can be bad
If your opponent chucks a
McEnroe and gets really mad
An ace is great but a double fault is not my mate
The luck may not be within going out by just an inch
But suddenly you serve an ace, which is in by just a smudge
Its great if you win. But even by the width of a pin. As long as you try your best even if you lose your game because of lack of zest.

The T.V. Set

T.V. can entertainment,
T.V. can be quite frustrating,
T.V. can have boring faces,
T.V. is made in all the wrong places.
I like the shows that are made for me,
But I hate the shows that are after tea.
I wonder why the T.V. is there?
Maybe it is just, because we are square!

A Face

A Face is something that we use,
To express or to amuse.
We use our face everyday,
To yawn and blink in everyway.
Our eye we use to see objects and,
Sometimes they make you look perplexed. Another part is our ear,
Which we use to twitch and hear.
The mouth is something that we use,
to eat our food or to abuse.
The nose is an extra piece of skin,
right above our smiling grin.
The other part is our chin,
which leaves wrinkles as we grin.

The Storm

It was a dark, gloomy, night.
I woke up with a fright.
Hearing a clap of thunder made me wonder when the storm would end.
Curling up under my blankets to get warm,
I heard a car horn then a screech, a bash.
Then I knew there had been a car crash.
But there was no way of getting me out of bed,
Even if the driver was dead . . .
Because I love my dear bed!!

'White on White'

The Blending Colours of White on White
Do Nothing to Camouflage the Baby Seal,
Or Save Her from Her Horrific Plight
Or Drown out the Sound of Her Dying Squeal.

Sensing Danger Ahead, She Stalks by Her Mother
Who Radiates Warmth in every Touch,
The Seal is Right for Approaches Another
Who Bares One Weapon, a Brutal Club.

Soon it is Over, the Ice is Red
And the Mother is Mourning the Loss of Her Child,
The Baby Seal is Lying Murdered, Dead.
While on the Face of the Huntsman there Lurks a Smile.

The Dead Seal's Brother Emerges from Behind a Crag
To sniff the mixture of Ice and Blood,
When Mother Moves on, Behind He does Lag,
Guided only by Her Rythmical Thud.

Soon Another Approaches, not to Kill but to Save Carrying with Him only Weapons of Peace.
He Mourns with the Mother over the Loss of Her Babe
And Sprays Grey Her Son's Lovely White Fleece.

The Contrasting Colours of Grey on White
Do Nothing to Camouflage the Baby Seal,
But Save it from it's Horrible Plight,
And Prevent the Sound of It's Dying Squeal.

'It's For Your Own Good'

'I Won't Live Like this!'. the Old Man thought stubbornly.
With a Sigh, He began to survey His Surroundings.

The Starch White Walls matched the sheets of His bed perfectly.
The Nursing Home was drab, with a feeble attempt to make the rooms cheerful with a minimum expense.

'It's for Your own Good, Pop,' they had told him, then walked away arm in arm.

He had served his Country well, the Old Man. He bore the title of 'Mayor' and when ceremonial duties called, His chest was adorned with Medals.

Now he was not permitted to march any more. Once more, the phrase 'It's for Your Own Good, Pop,' was used and once more they walked off placidly arm in arm.

The Old man's passion was reading. He loved to spend the nights quietly sitting by the fire in his old house, in not his, but other worlds belonging to the mystical figures in print on the page. But now he was not allowed to read after Ten O'clock at night. The reason? Of course it was for his own Good.

'An old man like you,' the Matron told him sternly, 'Needs his rest.'

This particular night was cold. The Wind blew at gale forces outside his window and the rain batted against the pane. With no heater inside his room, the old man shivered. Of course it was for his own benefit once again.

'It might catch fire and then you'll know it!' said the Matron 'It's better to be cold than dead.'

'Is it?' the old man asked himself. 'Is it better to be dead? I wonder . . . The Old Man's tired eyes sought out the sleeping pills next to his bed and a glint showed in his eye. With hands that trembled with excitement he slowly reached for the bottle of pills. He undid the cap and poured six out onto his hand.

He buzzed the Matron and sat placidly on his bed. She entered the room bearing a glass of water.

'Wish I didn't have to take the darn things,' the old man said.

'It's for your own good as you very well know!' replied the Matron snappily.

The Old man was pleased with himself and as the Matron stormed out of the room,

He took one last look at his surroundings.

Silently he pushed all six pills down his throat and took a gulp of water.

He nestled back on his pillow and shut his eyes.

Slowly he was surrounded by a white mist.

'This,' the old man thought blissfully 'is for my own good!'

Anzac Day

The School Choir.

Brother David and Mr Diamond singing along.

On Anzac Day we remember the young men of Australia and New Zealand who died for their countries, especially those in the Gallipoli campaign.

On the 24th of April, students and staff of Newman Siena gathered and had a moving ceremony recalling the young men who died for us.

Our two deputy head students, Gemma Tognini and James Tranter, lowered the flag to the half way mark in the sign of sorrow. Then a large wreath of flowers was placed beneath the flag pole by our two head students, Sally Parker and David Maola. During this time our trumpeters, Jeff Smith, Allen Newbold, Ben Gardiner, James Brunning and Brendon Farrell were playing The Last Post.

Thank you to everyone who helped with organizing the ceremony and may we not forget the men who gave their lives for their countries.

Year 9 Stoneville Camp

DAY 1: On Wednesday Aug 25th homerooms 11 and 13 were packed into buses and sent off to Stoneville camp (Time to start that new diet, four to a seat is not very easy). Anyway despite the squashed conditions we arrived safely. Our first task of camp was to meet Neil and his best friend Bugle (what a guy!!?). After being shown our dorms and having lunch we played "flags" (an exciting game!!) bringing out some peoples true identities. (Commandos Langdon Farrelly, Ashley Craft and Kristien Jackson). Next item on the list was a room inspection was it number 1 or 2??? The day ended with tea then a lantern stalk.

DAY 2: We were awoken at 7.00am by Neil and darling bugle for warm up games before breakfast. After breakie we competed in group co-operation activities. These included getting 12 people on a grate 50cm square (April and Alison to the rescue), linking arms then untangling ourselves, making a puzzle with your pieces with other people, the object was for other teammates to see who might need their pieces and give it to them this activity was done in silence so you could not ask or motion for a piece, joining arms and catching a person falling backwards off a vaulting horse and changing places with a person at the opposite end of a log to you. Next we were again trundled off, this time to Lake Leschenaultia for canoeing. It took all afternoon, as we were divided into 4 groups. Entertainment for others included cricket and volley ball (go Mr Rankin). After finding Sally, Eri, Samantha and Lindy we travelled home (stopping on the way for the all important 'midnight snacks' (a little deli's best business in years). Back at camp a mud fight broke out (time to wash the bathroom twice was it???). Nightlife included a disco that wasn't, a lantern stalk or three and a campfire (listening to one of NEIL'S jokes ha ha, apparently it was true, however that could be debated!!)

DAY 3: Up at 7.00 again thanks to Neil's illusive bugle. Time for breakfast and then clean up also dorm inspection (number 10 ???). After the BIG cleanup we played group survival games then lunch. Next we were squashed in a bus again and we started our journey home (stopping along the way to get more snacks). We arrived back at school at 2.30 (TIRED).

Year 9 . . . . .

Our bouncing, star volleyballers.

This year was the last year that the year nines went on camp. There were two campsites, this year, Point Peron and Stoneville. Each module split into two groups with two classes going to Point Peron and two to Stoneville. Module 1 left the school on August 26 with rooms 10 and 12 going to Point Peron and rooms 11 and 13 going to Stoneville. They arrived back on Friday 28th tired but happy. Well at least the students were!

Module 2 escaped from school on Wednesday the 2nd of September. Rooms 15 and 17 went to Stoneville while 14 and 16 went down to Point Peron. When they returned on the 4th it was difficult to tell who were more tired, the students or the teachers.

Camp life at the Point Peron camp, module two, was if not comfortable a lot of fun. Apart from the lucky teachers who managed to go, there was Neil — a guy from the Y.M.C.A. who came along to help out with the action. Upon arrival we got to view our five star accommodation. Lovely huts for four or more, sea views and, if you were lucky, a cupboard with doors. Real luxury!

Real Five-Star accommodation.

Yvette and Virginia — slightly damp!

Hey, hey we're The Monkees . .

Once the hungry hordes were fed it was off to Palm Beach for canoeing and, if you were brave enough, jumping off the jetty, despite the arctic conditions. Back at the campsite, after the beach, we got started into the 'Star Trekking' game. Having successfully completed the arduous assault course, helped by friendly 'aliens' (teachers) we had a delicious meal before going Lantern Stalking. This was similar to 'spotlight' but the aim of the game was to reach the top of a sandune, of Mount Everest proportions, without being spotted by the teachers at the top. When we got back, we had supper and then sat round a campfire in the dunes near the huts. Then we hit the sack.

Day two and we were awakened by an awful racket — Neil playing his bugle, at some ungodly hour of the morning. On the second day we went to the beach, again, and came back to do some more activities. That evening, after Lantern Stalking and sitting around another campfire, while we went to bed, the teachers had a small celebration to commemorate a certain teacher's birthday (Mrs. Roberts). Needless to say, there were no seven o'clock bugle calls on the next day!

We returned to school in the afternoon of Friday 4th, very weary and glad to be back in civilization.

This year's swimming carnival went off without a hitch — except one minor incident concerning Mr Slattery and the starter — it seemed to have a mind of its own & was eager to start the day without him. Putting that aside, there were no more little mishaps and the program went ahead smoothly.

The day was a huge success and enjoyed by all present. Thanks must go to all the staff, for arranging such an enjoyable day and to the swimmers for participating keenly.

A special congratulations are in order for the Gold team and the age champions who proved to be 'a cut above the rest'.

A.C.C. Swimming Carnival

This year, Mother Nature obliged us by suppling us with warm, pleasant weather for the carnival. The swimmers and the cheer squad were in high spirits and eager to commence the day.

The swimmers were off first and arrived at Beatty Park early. Soon to follow was the cheer squad and what a magnificent sight! Dressed in blue shorts for the boys and short blue skirts for the girls with the Newman emblem on their shirts, and led by the Year 12's, the squad looked fantastic. They were accompanied by the banner proclaiming: NEWMAN SQUAD (SHAKING UP THE POOL!).

The standard of swimming was once again high and the competition was fierce. The old rivalry between Newman and John XXIII was ever present, but Newman emerged victorious for their hat-trick, taking out five of the seven categories.

A special thanks must go to all of the coaches who put in a lot of time and effort to train the team.

The team swum really well and broke many records.

Gemma Tognini

A.C.C. Swimming

For the third year in succession, the Newman team brought honour to the College by winning the Combined Aggregate Trophy and, this year in addition, won four of the remaining six trophies — the Junior Boys' Trophy, the Senior Boys', the Combined Boys' and the Senior Girls'. The two remaining trophies were both won by St. Thomas Aquinas College in Bedford.

Certainly all concerned — competitors, coaches, cheer squad and supporters deserve special congratulations. Not only was the standard of swimming high; the spirit was enthusiastic and infectious and helped to make the Carnival a very happy event. All competitors are to be commended for their effort and contribution to the final overall success. The following deserve special mention.

13s — Marist Football Club

Season 1987 was not one of our best and commenced with initial inability to secure a coach. Geoff Bentley offered his services and we thank Geoff sincerely for his efforts.

Due to work commitments Geoff Bentley had to relinquish the coaching position and John Devine took over the remaining games.

I would like to thank all players for their application and co-operation, all parents and supporters. This team has the players and ability to develop into a very skilful and formidable combination within a year or two as some of our smaller players develop and produce a bit more "muscle".

Special mention to: —

- Dan Gooch, who played his 100th game during the season.
- Peter Devine
- Michael O'Sullivan who played their 50th Game.
- Brett Ahearn, always gave of his best.
- Brock Allan, creative player with lots of ability.
- Kane Bentley, will improve with experience.
- James Bruning, a good team member who will develop.
- Travis Burton, skilful, creative and versatile.
- Rocky Condo, versatile and effective, in a variety of positions.
- Paul Crogan, was the fastest player in this age group.

- Michael Della Polina, has the ability to develop into a top ruckman.
- Peter Devine, is without doubt the most aggressive tackler in the team.
- Stephen Doody, has revealed his aerial ability and skill.
- Nathan Elphick, hardworking and reliable member of the team.
- Dan Gooch, an inspiration to the team and rarely beaten.
- Anthony Haywood, excellent, hardworking team member.
- Dean Horsington, was an outstanding inspiration throughout the year.
- Iain Luscombe, effective in our last line of defence.
- Nick McGovern, creative and skilful.
- Shane O'Connor, showed good patches of form during the season.
- Chris Oldham, dedicated and has ability to develop into a very good player.
- Michael O'Sullivan, good team man — loves kicking goals.
- Derek Parle, hard working team member.
- Mal Purnell, back to his "rocksolid" best as the season progressed.
- Geoff Quinn, enthusiast and capable team member.
- Mark Scatena, effective player and excellent team member.
- Brad Stinson, continues to show good improvement.
- Ken Tomczak, good improvement and played some solid games.

Team Report — 14's

Coach: Mal Green

Manager: Graham Headland

This year the team set as their target the chance to play in the finals. At the same time of writing this report we are in second place and look like staying there.

Following the loss, for various reasons, of some of last years team, it was imperative that we recruit new players, and this year we welcomed 6 new members to the team. Some of the boys have played with the team before, but each and every one of them have contributed to the team, and we look forward to seeing them again next year.

This year we were again fortunate to have Mal Green as our coach and through Mal's efforts, the boys have achieved excellent results through the season. During the year, Mal's work required him to spend quite some time interstate, and I would like to, on behalf of Mal, thank all those people who willingly stepped in and helped with goal umpiring and vote casting. Last, but not least, my sincere thanks to both Sue Gooch and Lou Manolikos for their efforts during the season.

On behalf of Mal, I would like to thank the team for their efforts up to this stage and am sure we can finish the season on a winning note.

Graham Headland

Our Girls Under 14 Team contested the Grand Final for the 1987 Season. The breathtaking match continued through two ten minute extensions and to our relief our opponents generously suggested the Premiership be shared rather than it be decided by Penalty Flicks. We believe this is the first occasion a Siena Hockey Team has achieved a Premiership and we congratulate Coach Rena Andrews and our girls for a splendid effort. On Sunday, at the Presentation of Trophies, awards were made to Vanessa Grafton as the Most Improved Player of the season, and the prestigious Fairest and Best was shared by Stephanie Lowndes and Nicole Price. Congratulations!

The Tuckshop

Picture if you may, a cold, rainy gloomy day with a hint of frost in the air. Add to it, 40 hustling, bustling, students, milling around the one small area. This is our School Tuckshop on a wet day and the atmosphere is electric.

As I walk into the allocated area for buyers, I see a battle going on between two students, they shove and push and it is all for a place in line.

The look on the faces of the ladies serving is one of pure exasperation. Trying their best to satisfy the wants of the demanding pupils, brings a tiny trickle of perspiration onto their wrinkled brows.

The aroma of grilled cheese wafts towards my nostrils and I breathe in the fragrance in pure delight. The hum of conversation between students is surrounding me, but I take no notice. The heavy breath of another child falls on my neck in a rhythmic motion, in out, in out. The feel of coins in my sweaty palm reminds me of my wait and I jangle them impatiently.

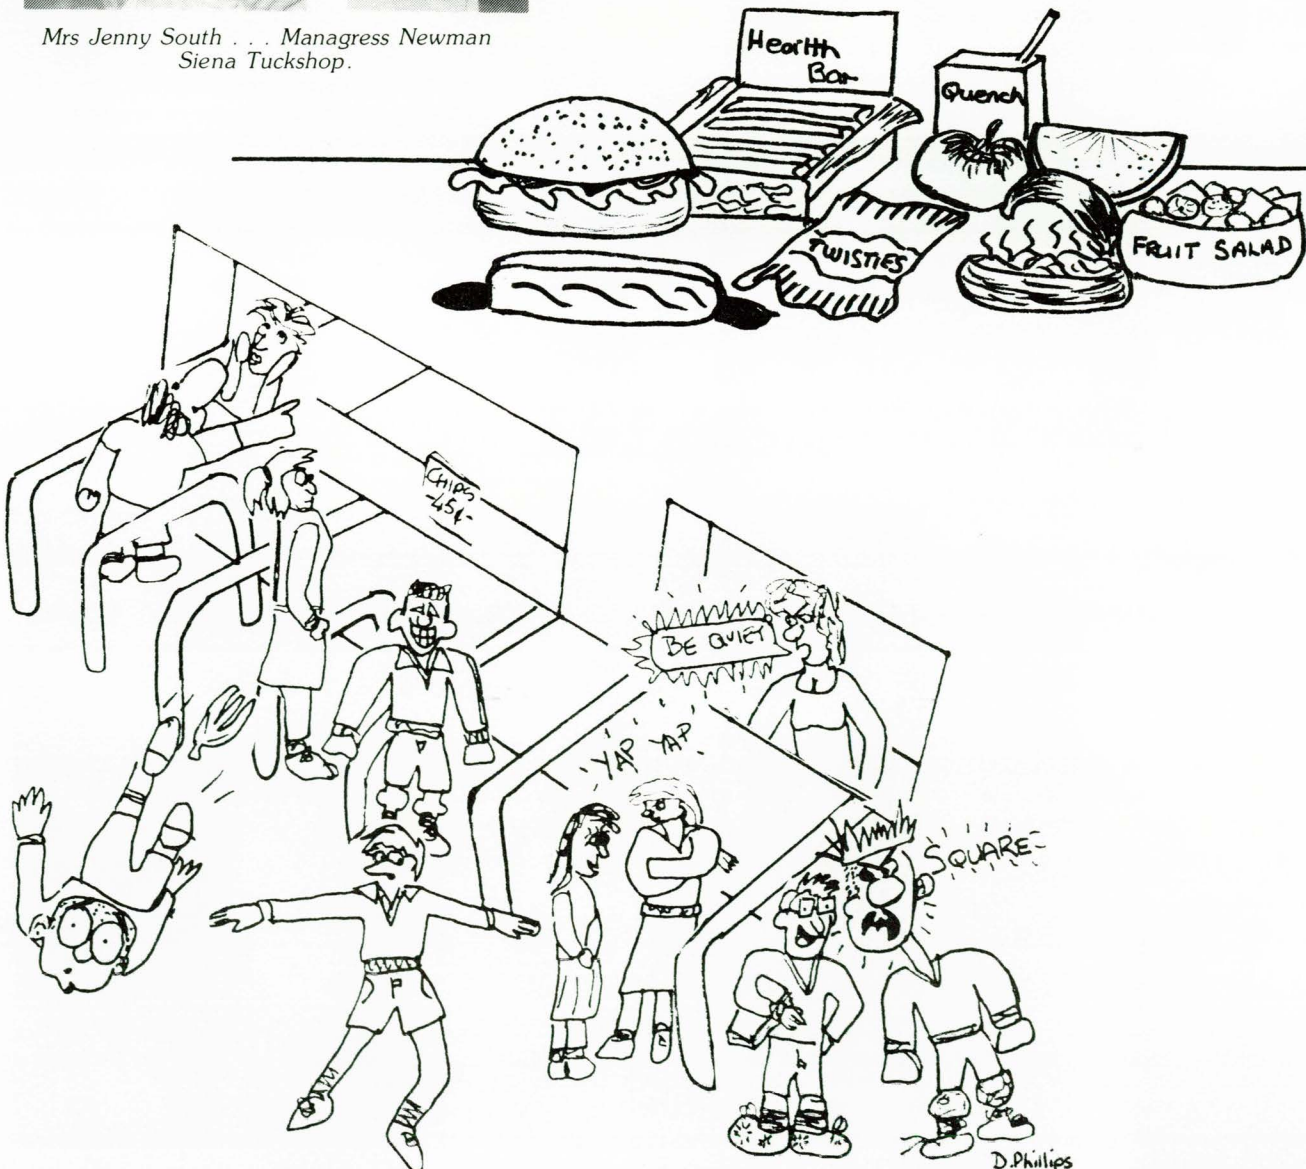

As my place in line moves closer and closer to the shop, I can hear particles of conversation between the lady serving and the student ordering. Their talk wafts towards me in fragments, "Nut Chew", "Chessie", "75c Please!"

"Was that cheese or chicken?" I hear my stomach rumbling, ordering me to hurry.

Finally, I am at the front of the line, moving towards the shop window. My turn is over in minutes and as I walk out, tasting the flavour of my delicacy. The perpetual hum of student conversation is upon me once more, I took no pleasure in that experience and it seemed that my purchase was a reward for the shoving, pushing and jostling that I endured in our school tuckshop, on a rainy day.

Magazine Committee Report

Well being on the Mag has certainly been an experience . . . And the advantages!! If nothing else came out of this ordeal, we now know every Year Nine's phone number and, to have access to certain photographs has been for some of us the main perk.

Apart from the wild parties, slavedriver Ruvidini cracked her whip over us all until we just about collapsed under the pressure. After hours and hours of slaving over the magazine and redoing pages until they were finally perfect the torture has finally come to an end.

It was great fun. Linda always cracking the same joke and Holly always saying "I don't get it". Toni spreading crumbs over the table, Gemma cutting certain people out of photos to take home, deciphering Darryl's drawings gave us extra entertainment. Anna saying things that went over our heads and Mrs Ruvidini worry lines increasing daily.

Overall working on the Mag has been great fun and very rewarding. A special thanks must go to Mrs Ruvidini and Mrs Wade for putting in a lot of effort and hard work to get the School Magazine finished on time. Finally thanks to us because we are jolly good people. All of us.
