Principal's Report

Today as I prepare to write for the College Year Book of 1991 and, in particular on behalf of and concerning Newman Siena, I reflect on the special character of the College as I have known it for over twenty years. Essentially it is a place of beginnings.

It is in the nature of beginnings that they are characterised, on the one hand, by a degree of uncertainty and, on the other, by enormous hope, optimism and the willingness to go forward in faith. The story of Newman Siena is marked by these qualities.

What is now Newman Siena began as "Siena", Dominican Girls' High School for Years 8-12. I have been part of the change from that five year High School to a three year High School for girls to the school as it is today, a co-educational one for Year 8 and 9 students and a component of Newman College. I have experienced the growth and change that have taken place in staffing, enrolments, the structure of the building, the internal management and the educational system itself.

It has been rightly said that where there is change, there is life. Growth and change have been very much part of the life of Newman Siena. Underpinning that change, of course, are the constants, the values we have always sought to retain the same spirit of service that prompted the Sisters initially to build the school, the pastoral care and concern exercised, the encouragement to seek after Truth and to pursue excellence.

My years at the College have been busy but happy ones. I leave with treasured memories of parents who have made great sacrifices to keep their children at school because they saw the contribution of Newman Siena to their son's or daughter's total development as more important than the personal acquisition of material things, who have wholeheartedly supported our efforts and who have worked with us to obtain the best in every way for their children; memories, too, of teachers and other staff dedicated to their vocation of educating and caring for the students and for whom the amount of time spent was never a consideration. I have experienced the sensitivity and kindness of students, seen them grow in maturity and faith, enjoyed their humour, appreciated their courage in times of difficulty, their generosity, initiative and independence.

As I leave the school scene behind me, I take this final opportunity to thank those students, parents and staff who have been part of my journey through all these changing years. My hope for each one of you and for all who, in the future, will be part of Newman Siena, is that God will continue to bless you in a special way all the days of your lives.

Finally, in the words of our Newman school prayer, may we all "Grow in wisdom and love and act with courage to choose what is right, as we move THROUGH SHADOWS AND IMAGES TO THE TRUTH."

Sister M. Perpetua O.P.

Opening Mass

Head Boy and Girl, Demetrios Pynes and Joanna Ogonowski

Mr Diamond and Mrs Lindsay present a class captain badge to Nick Brown

Sister Perpetua presents Deputy Head Boy badges for Russell Clarke and Jeremy Robotham.

Students from the Senior School combined with Siena students for the opening school Mass which was celebrated by Father Pat Bishop. The school flags were carried to the altar by representatives of the Siena and Senior school campuses.

Readings and special prayers were read by students, parents and teachers. After the Mass class captains and prefects were presented with their badges.

At the conclusion of the service parents, students and teachers were invited to the Siena Hall for refreshments.

WELCOME:

Mrs Merryl Eitelhuber born and educated in Western Australia is a graduate of Claremont Teachers' College and the University of Western Australia.

She has taught in the State and Catholic systems in both primary and secondary schools in W.A. as well as a three year stint teaching English as a foreign language in Germany.

Mrs Eitelhuber is married with two sons.

Mrs Valmay O'Brien was born and educated in South Africa, and settled in Perth 10 years ago. Originally trained to teach English and Social Studies, she's also taught Maths, Physical Education and now teaches Typing. Before coming to Newman Siena College she taught adults at a City Business College and tutored in Secretarial Studies at W.A.C.A.E. She has a keen interest in psychology. She is married and has four sons.

Miss Marietta Russo, after having taught at Siena for three years went to teach in Botswana as an AVA. She returned to Siena in second term this year after spending two years overseas.

Mrs Kay Jones spent a lot of time this year relieving in the Social Studies Department.

Mrs Michelle Kantsler came to the school mid year as a parttime maths teacher.

Mr John Tomczak relieved in the Special Education department during 3rd term.

Both Mrs Jenny Widdicombe and Mrs Chris Crooks are new to the office.

FAREWELL:

Sister Mary Gemma left the school during second term due to ill health.

Sister Gemma, known for her gentle disposition and genuine concern for her students, had been with the school for fifteen years and is sadly missed by all.

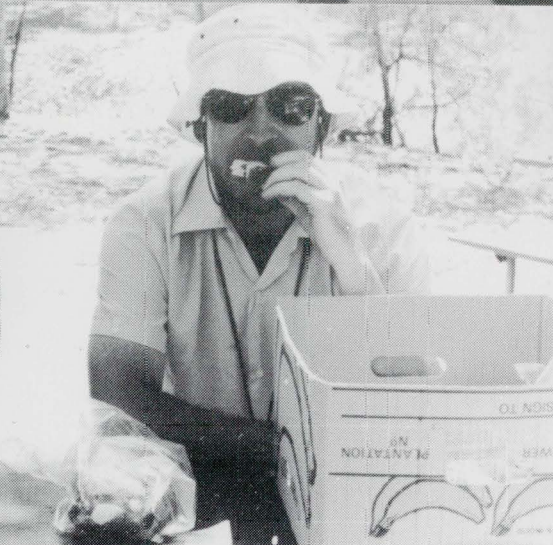

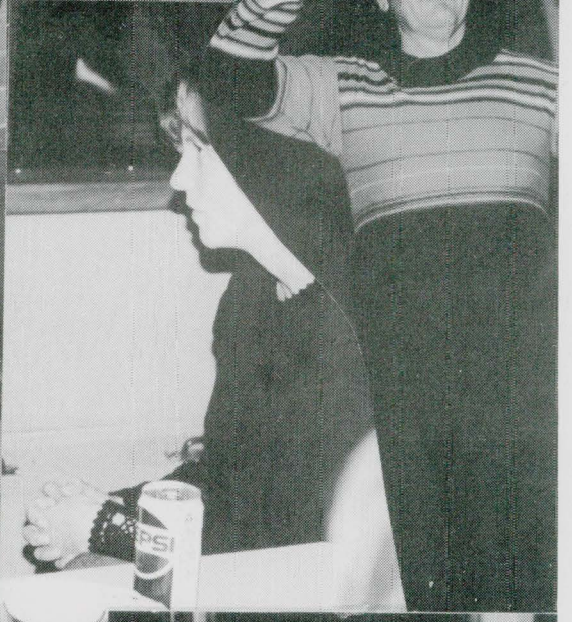

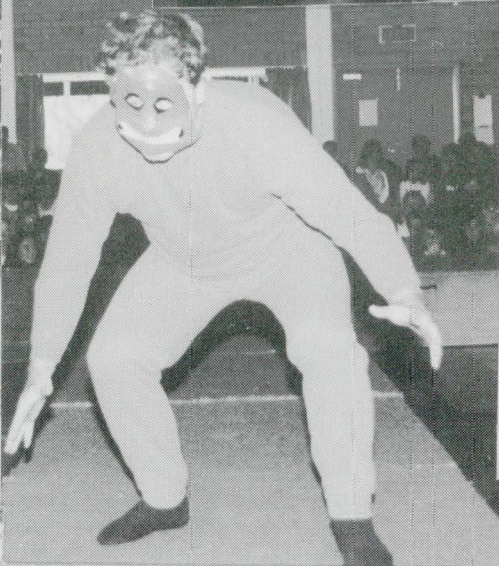

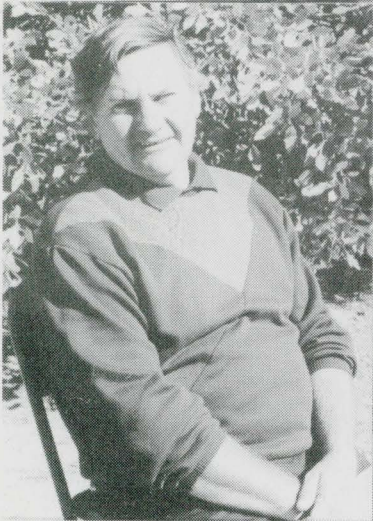

Mrs Margaret Evans retired earlier this year after ten years at the school. She spent time in both the Marist Middle School and Siena offices.

Mrs Evans with her husband spent some time overseas after her retirement. She will be remembered for her patience and understanding.

Mrs Nina Burette is retiring from the school after having taught here for ten years. She has taught French, English and Religion. She will be remembered for her warmth and friendliness and it will be a sad loss for the school when she leaves.

Miss Ingrid Mulder, the Art teacher at Newman Siena is taking leave for one year to travel Japan. This time will be spent teaching English and studying both formally and informally the Japanese Aesthetic.

Miss Mulder will be missed by the students, who under her guidance produce an excellent standard of art work.

NEWMAN SIENA AUXILIARY

1991 saw a few changes in our organisation.

We have a new constitution and a new name. We are now known as the "Newman Siena College Auxiliary."

It was pleasing to see so many fathers at the morning tea early in the 1st term to welcome in the new year and celebrate the opening of the Theatre Arts Centre.

We continued with our fundraising this year which allowed us to buy a 3D Overhead Projector for the Science Department.

Thank you to all the students and families who supported the raffles and a special thank you to Mrs Jenny South who managed the canteen so effectively for another year.

The Melbourne Cup Luncheon continued to be a part of the Newman Social calendar and the main feature this year was the exciting fashions presented by St Louis Blues.

During November we also thanked the "helpers" on all campuses with a combined BBQ at the new Sports Centre.

We would like to take this opportunity to note the retirement of Sister Mary Perpetua. Her untiring and outstanding efforts on behalf of the whole school community and the children in particular have been greatly appreciated.

THANK YOU SISTER.

In wishing Sister a well deserved rest we look forward to helping Sister Mary to meet the challenges which lie ahead.

The 1991 Committee of the Newman Siena Auxiliary.

PREFECTS' REPORT

Back L-R: G. Brajkovich, B. Glass, J. Ogonowski Front L-R: J. Robotham, R. Clarke, D. Pynes

As the final term of 1991 draws to a close, we would like to look back on the events of the past year. We were formally introduced as the Prefect Team at the Opening Mass where we received our badges. This was a special night because it brought together the entire school, which received a blessing for a successful coming year. Our first major project was the organisation of a paper recycling system in the school which has continued throughout the year. One of our pleasant duties was to welcome guests to the school on occasions such as the Open Day and the Mothers' morning tea. At a number of functions we represented the student body, including the opening of the Senior School gymnasium. Fund raising for those less fortunate than ourselves, such as the Kurdish Refugees and St. Vincent De Paul, was a priority during the year and the students have been generous in their support of these appeals. The school fete again proved to be an enormous success, providing an opportunity for both staff and students to enjoy the various games, stalls and entertainment, while at the same time raising money for the Missions. We would like to express our appreciation to all who have supported us through the year, both students and staff. In particular we wish to thank Sr. Perpetua and Br. David for their guidance and wise counsel. Sadly, this year marks the end of Sr. Perpetua's association with the College. Sister, through the years, has earned the respect and admiration of the many students and staff with whom she has worked. Her departure marks the end of an era for the College, and is a sad loss for those who have come to rely on her for help and guidance. We wish her a contented and tranquil retirement and much happiness in the future.

HOME ROOM 1

Mrs Burette we're all her pets,
 Lots of love and affection she gets.
 Mrs Nockolds makes us read,
 It's what we all really need.
 Mrs O'Brien teaches us typing,
 So that we'll never have to do writing.
 Nicole is quite small,
 But she talks like she's tall.
 Turan is nice and never nags,
 She knows her stuff but never brags.
 Kerryn is different all over again,
 She loves to laugh, she's 10 out of 10.
 Ben Lee-Kong has lots of friends,
 He loves to work with odds and ends.
 Matt's the one who loves to play ball,
 He's quite good, although he's not tall.
 Rebecca has a really true friend,
 She and Vanessa always follow the trend.
 Chantel is the one who is always on fire,
 She seeks the heights then goes even higher.
 Chris is a fan of Michael Jordan,
 In his spare time he goes surf boardin'.
 Vivian is great in the pool,

He's funny and friendly and really quite cool.
 Ben's the one with all the curls,
 When he scores you hear all the girls.
 Nice and caring is Angela Munday,
 Always helping, even on a Sunday.
 Daniel's the one who is Mr Cool,
 He's rough and tough but never a fool.
 Cara really uses her brain,
 She's smart, of course, and never a pain.
 Baolong is nice and talks hardly ever,
 He's good at cooking and really quite clever.
 Nicole is nice and cheers you up,
 She really is a cute little pup.
 Jenni likes netball, tennis as well,
 But what she really likes is the 3.20 bell!
 Kristy's a giggler, she giggles a lot,
 Once she gets started she'll never stop.
 Scott is a boy who is really cool,
 He is quite smart and doesn't fool.
 Rosaleen can run pretty fast,
 And in long distance, boy can she last!
 Wayne is the truthful boy,

I've never heard him tell a lie.
 Lisa is, oh so quiet,
 And never would start a riot.
 Daniel M. likes to make a fuss
 By throwing things and teasing us,
 Daniel W. is the man of steel
 His secret is his orange peel.
 Robert is very good at soccer
 Keeps his ball in his locker.
 Michael likes to run all day
 He's really happy when he's at play.
 Christian has a lot of red hair
 In all of his laughs we do share.
 Vanessa isn't really tall
 She likes to play a bit of netball.
 Steven, class captain, is a responsible boy,
 He will do his duties with lots of joy.
 Bradley certainly is never wrong,
 He finishes tests well before the gong.
 Jonathon is a really cool kid,
 Who will never be a major squid.

HOME ROOM 5

Jovial John always jokes during general lessons and geometry.
 Carrie carefully concentrates on controlling her computer keys while chatting continuously with her companions.
 Mark marvels at his muscles, in the mirror on Monday morning before maths.
 Rebecca rules Home Room by reading rapidly off the Admin. Sheet, remembering rules and regulations regarding Room 5.
 Alicia always answers with alacrity and accuracy in Art lessons.
 Lorraine loves leaving language lessons looking like a lady.
 Sam Superman studies Science and Social Studies in Room seven simultaneously.
 Nimble Nathan uses negative numbers with notable nonchalance.
 Stephen spontaneously stars in the school play and creates a sensation.
 Dangerous Dan daringly dodges detention daily and delivers speeches destined to leave everyone delirious.
 Majestic Michelle multiplies "M's" in maths with much mystery and masters mental without melodrama.
 Kristina came casually into class and was keen to contribute to her new school.
 Julio has had to organise his homework since he left his homeland.
 Craig calypsos around the classroom collecting colours for his R.E. captions.

In Maths, Michael manages to make Mrs Brennan marvel at his mastery of many milligrams.
 Concerned Kristy carefully collects her books amongst the clamour of her classmates.
 Dashing Dave ducks and dives on his chair during discussions demanding the demented teachers's digression.
 Jenni gauntily swam like a jewfish and was judged the junior champion.
 Leong likes laughing in the Lab while Mr Lafferty longs to have him learn about liquids.
 Damian draws with distinction and doesn't mind daring hair do's.
 Charming Christine cheerfully creates confusion in the corridors with her constant chatter.
 Vanessa voices her various opinions in V.E. with great virtue.
 Sportstar Stephen springs to P.E. and sets off on seven laps and sixteen sit ups.
 Rebellious Rowena ruins Religion by rampaging round the room with Renee.
 Remarkable Renee regards riding as First Rate and Radical.
 Terrific Tim takes typing tests on Tuesday while trying to decipher Tech. Drawing's technicalities.
 Samuel survives serious situations with a satisfactory sales pitch.
 Attentive Adrian attributes his amusement to these amazing alliterations.

 or if Jeelan wasn't so obedient and quiet,
 while Gareth the clown was creating a riot....
 If Crystal didn't block the view with her fringe so stylish or Darren had an Aussie accent instead of Irish....
 If Josephine had a parachute to break her fall,
 or Amanda wasn't being friendly to all....
 If John did his homework for just one day,
 "I forgot to bring it" Robert wasn't to say....
 If we didn't have Leigh's repertoire of noise or without Kenny sitting with the girls instead of the boys.
 If we mistook a bean pole for David Wood,
 or Andrew at Flying wasn't terribly good.
 If Miss Mulder didn't wear her clothes so artistic or if Mr Slattery gave up wood and turned to plastic.
 If Class Captain Janelle didn't lead us with zest,
 It just wouldn't be room nine if we weren't the best.

Home Room 10

HERE'S ROOM 10 got something to say,
 So stand up, people, and look this way!
PAUL is a real party dude.
MARIANNE rules with a flute.
JARROD is a skilled football star.
MICHAEL'S wicked on the guitar.
JOSETTE plays hockey and is the best.
FIONA will whip you in a test.
 Then there's TAMMY with cute dimples.
 And, on the basketball court, SARA rules.
KATY is a music fan.
MARCO is a marathon man.
 When it comes to MATTHEW, call him Matt.
MONICA stops to sit and chat.
B.A. thinks his class is full of stars.
JOSH is the best of footy stars.
BRETT has always got heaps to say.
CHRIS, the Quiet Achiever, does things his way.
JENNI is Australian with a bit of Dutch.

NICK loves rugby but hates to play touch.
SARAH WEST is a great Tech. Drawer.
BEN desperately needs a Cure tour.
JUSTIN plays footy. He's the best in the State.
ANTONY is quick. He is everyone's mate.
ELIZABETH is the Secret Keeper.
LUKE is a runner and a leaper.
MELISSA is great at ice-skating.
DAN in ruck keeps on pacing.
CRAIG SMITH is a real team man.
SIMON'S smart. He eats his bran.
DANIEL is an actor, born and bred.
VANESSA'S good at English: the Magazine Ed.
GEMMA loves dancing at a Ball.
BRIAN craves for more basketball.
AMELIA is truly original.
KRISTINA is one those artistic people.
 And, finally, SAM who says: "G'day!"
 Please just call him - "SALVATORE"!

 Row 1 L-R: Claire Wong, Tanya Mulcaster, Michelle Nutt, Rachel Mack, Felicity Haldane, Nadia Cassidy, Emma Roberts.
 Teachers Mr N. Morson, Mrs M. Foster.

ROOM 11 WOULDN'T BE ROOM 11 IF...

Nadia Cassidy didn't have a late slip in her hand,
 Justin Giacomel had a different haircut,
 Darren Demasi didn't learn something new every day,
 Ryan O'Rourke wasn't swinging on his chair,
 Gavin Trim wasn't collecting money for missions,
 Joanna Ogonowski wasn't worried about a test,
 Emma Roberts wasn't reading a book,
 Jeremy Robotham liked Mr Hunt,
 Clare Wong didn't have a Sportsgirl pencilcase,
 Pippa Williams' hair wasn't going green,
 Sarah Taylor didn't have an Irish joke to tell,
 Hock Siew wasn't smiling,
 Shad Ryan didn't like sports,
 Peter Parlongo wasn't filling in absences,
 Mark Perfrement wasn't yawning,
 Kathryn Hawke wasn't so quiet,

Felicity Haldane wasn't so fast at running,
 Michael Marchesani wasn't looking at the front wall,
 Tony Herbert wasn't at the tuckshop,
 Neil Plackett wasn't growing his hair,
 Patrick Horgan wasn't so inquisitive,
 Claire Berry came to homeroom,
 Michael Bourn wasn't peeping out the window,
 John Loh wasn't good at drawing,
 Gian Paul Lorenzetto didn't hit his head on the roof,
 Jacquie Noon wasn't falling asleep,
 Tanya Mulcaster wasn't hiding behind her fringe,
 Michelle Nutt wasn't always with Rachel,
 Rachel Mack wasn't always with Michelle,
 Ryan O'Connor's every second word wasn't "like",
 Melanie O'Donnell did P.E.,
 Byrony Glass didn't do well on a test.

 Teachers: Mrs M. Eitelhuber, Mr P. Murnane.

HOME ROOM 12

Well it starts with SCOTT PATTERSON who will one day, play professional basketball with the N.B.A.
 Then in our class there is that guy BEN POTTER who hardly ever does more than he's gotta.
 I'm sure you know DAVE, with the wrestling craze,
 who's always going through the 'Ultimate Warrior' phase.
 You'd have to know MATT, who's got too much to say,
 but he'll take body boarding over school any day!
 You have nothing to fear cos LEAH will appear,
 with her notorious laugh that's not hard to hear.
 Then there is STEVEN, whose temper is so even.
 REBECCA CORBETT is the animal lover,
 who has pictures of kittens on her file cover.
 We call CARL our "walking Thesaurus."
 who, with his knowledge can sometimes quite bore us.
 ANITA is just a natural jet-skier,
 when she's on the water, you'd better keep clear.
 The 'Class clown' of Rm 12 would have to be NICK.
 who we all think is just a little bit quick.
 KELLI is the girl with the bright smile,
 who you can stop and chat and talk a while.

ADAM is a Pavarotti fan,
 but is also an Italian soccer man.
 In each class there's always a loud guy,
 in our class it's BRETT, who's continuously questioning why?
 Like SCOTT, SHANNON is a basketball freak, she's fast and swift and far from weak.
 PETA is quiet inside of school, but outside she's a one to rule.
 DREW is known for foolishness and sarcasm,
 this sometimes sends teachers into a critical spasm.
 Every day BEN MULLINGER does on the black board the date,
 he's a pal in Room 12, a real friendly mate.
 DES has got those big blue eyes,
 but he's definately one of the funny guys.
 JOSEPH would have to be our science pro,
 ask him a question on Science and he'll know.
 A quiet one is ELIZABETH CLARK. She's kept all of us in the dark.
 CRAIG likes to work with wood, we believe his efforts are really good.
 JAY found Maths really hard, now he's getting great marks on his card.
 Then there's MRS EITELHUBER and MR MURNANE, who run the class without too much pain.

by Shelby Bombak.

 Row 1 L-R: Marnie Butson, Nicole Burns, Muna Salama, Rita Tan, Michaela Hughes, Britt Simpson, Pippa Allan.
 Teachers: Mr M. Diamond, Miss E. Dzieciol

The room 14 kids are really cool
 Its probably the best classroom the school!
 Miss Dzieciol and Mr Diamond are our teachers.

Then there's the kids who have lots of features.

Russell Hadley likes to play jokes
 He's got curly brown hair and is an OK bloke.

Kathryn Sadler is good at gym
 In the classroom she wears a happy grin.

Justin Dwyer sits up the back
 He likes Midnight Oil and also to chat.

Michaela Hughes is a good swimmer
 At the swimming carnival she was a winner.
 Myles MacKenzie didn't come till third term
 In first and second terms he didn't have to learn.

Belinda Fitzpatrick came from Interstate
 She has fitted in well and has lots of mates.

Trent Berry is a small happy lad
 He tells some jokes to make others mad.
 Kylie Virgo loves the one and only Bart
 The Simpsons are her style and she has a kind heart.

Shane Garvey is a real tough dude
 It must be his program of eating good food.

Andrea Goodison is very tall
 When she's with her friends she has a ball.

Craig Vernon likes to be heard
 Sometimes his jokes are not preferred.
 Tanneal Hatchett is a popular chick

HOME ROOM 14

She has recently brought a dog called Brick.

Mark Tripodi is his name
 Body Boarding is his game.

Mary Fung is good at art
 In the class she's really smart.

Nick Kane likes to pull faces
 He's a smart guy who will go high places.
 Harold Courteille has gone back to France
 Maybe he'll find a lasting romance.

Marnie Butson is excellent at gym
 When she does sport she likes to win.

Adrian Voong likes a good video game
 If you played against him he'd put you to shame.

Britt Simpson has a horse which she likes to go riding

If you gave her a race she'd give you a hiding.
 Julian Van Dermeer plays hockey and prefers the beach

He is very quiet when it comes to speech.
 Nicole Burns plays netball and is a soapies lover

When it comes to looks she is like her mother.

Chris Spring is quiet and not often heard
 He likes to play tennis and admires Stefan Edberg.

Muna Salama has got black ringlets that flow down her back

When it comes to her homework she's never slack.

Glen Earnshaw is quick in the pool
 When we talk about money he's nobody's fool.

Pippa Allan is really easy going
 When she is on stage she starts glowing.
 Justin McConnell is a body boarding dude

He's a friendly guy who likes his food.
 Renata Earnshaw is an excellent artist
 Glen is her cousin and she's one of the smartest.

Mark Pritchard represents Newman
 Swimming Club

When he's under the water he's a miniature sub.

Rita Tan likes to do well in tests
 And at her work she is the best.

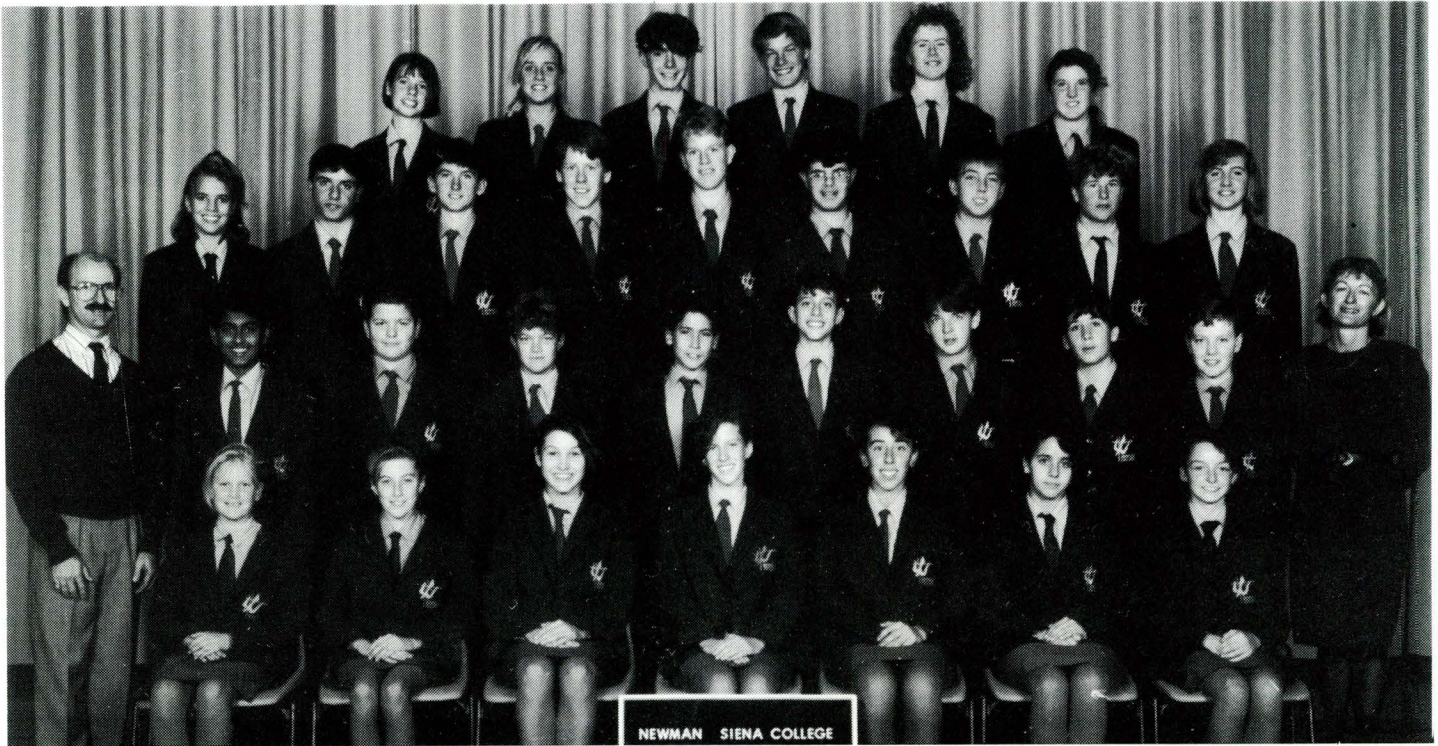

Bradley Smith is an outspoken kind of guy
 Because of his height he's way up high.

Anna Georgiades fits in with the crowd
 She is good at basketball and rarely fouls.
 So now all the people in our class are a bit better known.

And some of our good and bad points have been shown.

So now it's a fact and all agreed
 That we're the best class - the original room 14 breed.

A DEEP MOMENT OF PHILOSOPHY - FROM ROOM 17:

Don't think of it as yet another year gone by since the last College Year book. Think of it as another year spent mastering the intricacies of a rewarding and demanding life!

(Well, it sounds better than "There goes another year down the drain!")

Music!!!!

On varying dates all year 8 students went on camp to Point Peron or Serpentine. They visited Serpentine Falls and Cable Waterskiing. Other Activities they enjoyed were rides on the Flying Fox, swimming, canoeing and various games. The camp was a time when the new students received a chance to meet others in an environment other than school.

CAMP

The worst thing that happened was having to do "dishes". I am used to doing dishes at home but about 1/30th less than what I did at Serpentine. Andrew Wright

The most enjoyable camp group activity for me was the game of Spotlight on Tuesday night. I reached the destination without being spotted two out of three times. At night it was good, we listened to our walkmans and told jokes. I really enjoyed those nights in the dorm. Eugene Long

The way I belonged to the three groups at camp - it was like a big family. For the dormitory I belonged to it through friendship and for the workgroup I belonged to it through co-operation. Anthony Miller

In my duty group I helped prepare for lunches and dinner and played special games. In our dormitory group we all talked together. I also made new friends in my dorm group. In our whole camp group we just went on excursions and we had a lot of free time to meet other people. Janelle Yujnovich

In the whole group I felt like a very important part and I also felt really happy when I made new friends and went to different places. In the duty groups I felt like a much more important member of a much smaller group. In the dorm group I felt that I had made friends with everyone. David Bean

The best thing that happened on camp was the water fight our cleaning group had when the teachers were not looking. Darren Goodison

Rooms 8 and 9 boarded the buses on the Tuesday morning bound for Serpentine campsite set in the hills. Even though the buses were overcrowded there was a sense of unity and belonging between the two classes. There did not seem to be anyone upsetting or teasing others from the beginning to the very end. I felt so much part of the group that I didn't want anyone to feel left out or alone. At camp I got to know other people better and made new friends which is very hard to do in a classroom situation. Also we could communicate with the teachers as there is not enough time during the school lessons. Zac Farrer.

Anzac Ceremony

The Anzac Day ceremony was held on Friday 12th April, due to Anzac Day falling during the school holiday. Mrs Lindsay read a touching Anzac Day Reflection, followed by the opening procession.

Everyone joined in the singing of the National Anthem and a guest speaker from the R.S.L. addressed the school, followed by several readings from year 9 students.

The Australian flag was lowered to half mast. The Last Post was played while one minute's silence was observed for those who had died in wars, and as the Reveille was played the flag was raised to the mast-head.

Brother David concluded the ceremony by thanking all those who had taken part.

ACHIEVEMENTS

Congratulations to the many students who achieved success in both academic and recreational pursuits during the year.

Luke Fort, Darren Demasi, Kelly Vernon and Byrony Glass all competed in the State Athletics Championships, winning 3 Gold and 1 Silver Medal between them.

Mark Hoyer received a Gold Medal in the Beach Sprints at the Junior Lifesaving Carnival.

Shannon Traynor was selected to play in the Catholic Netball Association Under 16 team touring New Zealand during September. After completion of that tour she was selected to play in an all Australian team.

Josette Carey represented the under 16 State School Girls' Hockey team. The Championships were held in Adelaide during August.

Melissa Beer came 2nd in the Intermediate Ladies Division of the State Ice Skating Championships. She went on to represent the State in the Intermediate Ladies Section during the 1991 National Ice Skating Championships held in Canberra.

Chantel Rosser came 1st in the Elementary Ladies Division of the State Ice Skating Championships.

Tania Nicolo was selected in the 1991 State Calisthenics Team, going to Sydney for the competition.

Luke Fort, Darren Demasi and Byrony Glass all travelled to Singapore to compete against Singapore athletes during July. Sixty-six athletes from Australia went on the tour, with our three students being part of the squad. They brought home 3 Gold Medals, 2 Silver Medals and 2 Bronze Medals.

Travis Coleman, competing in the Shell Swimming Championships came 2nd, winning a Silver Medal.

Pippa Allen and Dixie Farinosi were part of the "Revue Troupe" to compete in the State Commonwealth Society of Teachers of Dance Competition which was held in Melbourne during July. They were placed third, however, overall they received 9 awards during the competition.

Michael Bogois was selected in the Squad for the Pacific School Games to be held in Darwin next year.

Monica Pompeo will represent Western Australia in Adelaide in an under 16 Dancing Competition at the end of the year.

Nihit Shar was runner up in the State under 15 Squash Championships.

Taryn Gianatti, Marnie Butson and Kathryn Sadler were selected as members of the team representing their club at the National Gymnastics in Sydney.

Mark Pritchard representing Newman Churchlands Swimming Club won a Bronze Medal in a 100 m. breast stroke at the Mandurah Short Course Swimming Championships.

The following students (were outstanding) in the Australian Schools Science Competition 1991:

Paul Di Benedetto, Year 8 student and Fiona Bennetts Year 9 student were both awarded a Certificate of High Distinction and a $20 prize for achieving the highest mark in the school and for being in the top 1% of entrants from the State.

The following students were awarded a Certificate of Distinction for being in the next 10% of entrants from the State.

Year 8 Students:

John Anderton, Jenni Bateman, Russell Cramp, Daniel Halden, Ryan Hartfield, Colin Haughton, Anthony Hawke, Tiffanie Hutchinson, Katherine Jones, Christopher Kieran, David Lawrence, Paul Meyer, Robert Morgan and Rebekah Sturniolo.

Year 9 Students:

Nadia Cassidy, Luke Fort, Anna Georgiades, Byrony Glass, Alexander Hyman, John-Paul Lorenzetto, Neil Plackett and Nihit Shah.

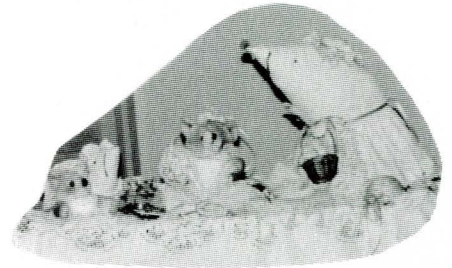

Westpac Maths Awards

Nicole de la Motte achieved a score in the 99% ranking and just missed out on being awarded a prize.

21 students from Year 8 received distinctions and 9 Year 9 students also received distinctions.

OPEN DAY '91

On Thursday, June 6th, Newman Siena College held its First Open Day. There were two sessions during which approximately fifty people visited the school. The visitors were taken around the school by staff and prefects and were able to see the students 'at work'. From 4.30-6.30pm parents also had the opportunity of seeing around the school and meeting staff.

THEATRE ARTS

CENTRE OPENING

On the 23rd February the John Broderick Theatre Arts Room was officially opened. The centre was blessed by Father Peter Slattery and opened by Mr N Catania, MLC for Balcatta, in the presence of parents and friends of the College. The centre was named in honour of John Broderick, a long time friend of the College, in appreciation of the contributions he has made for the benefit of the Newman Siena Community.

The new Theatre Arts Centre, which consists of a large working area, movable stage, sophisticated lighting system and black curtains, will effectively provide the setting for a performance situation. The Centre will promote the interest and involvement of students in the Theatre Arts.

ROCK EXTRAVAGANZA

The Theatre Arts Rock Extravaganza, 1991 had the 'Right Combination' of 'Shoop Shoop Songs'. Mrs Lindsay, the producer said, " 'Everybody Dance Now' because 'It's Still rock n' Roll to me.' " The Hall was a 'Rhythm Nation' and there was an 'Eternal Flame' which caused all to say " 'I Wear My Sun Glasses at Night.' " Although it didn't go from 'Nine to Five' the 'Respectable' crowd shouted, " 'Feed Me Seymour!' ". The teachers said, " 'Johnny be Good!' Don't 'Blame it on the Boogie' it was 'Only You.' 'Boys Don't Cry' unless they're 'Thunderstruck!' Now, 'Keep Your Hands to Yourself' or I'll give you a 'Hippy, Hippy Shake.' "

From outside that 'Love Shack' you could see 'Venus' but you could hear, " 'All You Need is Love' - not just any love - 'Baby Love.' "

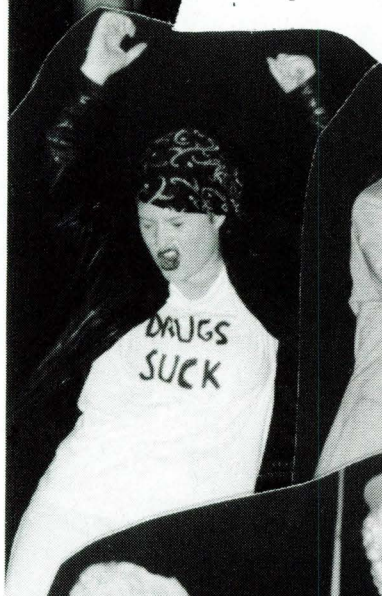

"Due to mechanical breakdown, a 'Time Warp' caused an 'Oldies Medley'.

After Gemma's kick, the curtain was 'Falling to Pieces'. So she apologised, "Sorry, but you know how 'Opposites Attract'. Love is Strange.' "

The 'Islands in the Stream' went 'Splish, Splash' and shouted, "Brrr, this water is 'Ice, Ice Baby.' "

Mrs Biagi who was the 'King of the Mountain', said, " 'O Sole Mio! 'Where are You Baby?' "

At the end, all the students said, " 'We've Lost that Loving Feeling!' If only we could 'Step Back in Time' and do it again!"

MISSION FETE

$2,300, what an effort!

This grand total was reached with enormous co-operation, despite the cutting recession.

It was a total school achievement, with everyone taking part. Free dress, a variety of stalls, the model of the Year contest and horse riding were all part of the 1991 Mission Day Fete.

THE FIGHT

Here I sit
Half-hearted,
Watching a fight
I had only just started.
It was 4 onto 1
Some others stood around
With just one swing
One hit the ground.
He was the loner
Been here for a year,
After leaving his country
With a mind full of fear.
For back in his country
First killed was his Dad,
Next was his brother
On a street in Baghdad.
Back to the fight
And everyone cheered,
The boy had come back
All the fear had cleared.
He was back on his feet
Throwing punches galore,
The crowd were wild
Yelling 'More! More! More!'
As the 4 were all hit
Lying down on the ground,
The loner turned king
For he had the crown.
Anyone else
Without something to say,
Lookout! or my fist
Will be coming your way.'
As I walked on home
The crowd tore apart,
The poor boy I felt
Had a place in my heart.

A CRY OF HOPE

Here is a world with hearts of stone,
Through jungles and oceans we are thrown.
Take not what we want but battle on
Through fields of fire where hat has shone.
We are kicked back this race of our
Greeted with guns and not with flowers.
Our skin is dark though it may seem
Through flesh and heart there is no gleam.
Where is justice, where has it gone?
Our flags and dreams with swords are torn.
We are human flesh and bone,
The difference apparent - our skin tone.

What have we done, what can we do?
We come in peace just passing through.
Why are we in all our thoughts
The only ones without a cause?
We are one - not alone
We have gone - the thunderdome
We succeeded where others have failed
Only to return where we are jailed.
We are proud, we stand alone
The seams are cut but are not sewn
All are equal we mix alternately
Stand by us now, brave and defiantly.

FRIENDS

I once knew a little girl,
Her skin was blackish brown,
And we would talk together.
My mother didn't like her,
She wouldn't let me see her,
But I would meet her secretly
And we would talk together.
She told me how kids teased her,
And would always be unkind
But I still was her friend
And we would talk together.
I don't know where she's gone now,
But if I met her one day soon
I would say hello to her
And we would talk together.

PREJUDICE

I remember the hurt and shock in his eyes,
As I watched on with little surprise.
He was shoved and pushed and teased and taunted.

But still he stood there, tall and undaunted.
His black, black face, expressionless and still,
His black fists clenched, with a desire to kill.

These little white boys - half of his size Confident because of their colour and cries.

This confidence grew in the watching crowd.

Their cheering and encouragement increasingly loud.

And then he struck out a powerful blow,
From the white boy's mouth, blood started to flow.

The crowd pounced on that tall dark boy.
Beating him up gave them merciless joy,
An unfair ration, of a hundred to one,
Only leaving when he was thoroughly done.

And again I had watched from hidden view -

A familiar sight, nothing new
I longed to go over and help that black,
But fear and my head made me turn my back.

Now I looked back but with no pride,
For that beaten black boy, lying there,
died.

Rumour got round he'd been in a fight,
And the other involved - as black as the night.

NO MAN IS AN ISLAND - OR IS HE?

I visit his grave and put some flowers down.
He had a short life.
Yet he endured as much pain through those years as one old and wise.

I used to sit and watch him
His gentle actions, his quiet manner.
he hardly ever spoke a word,
yet his eyes said it all.

He was not sad to go,
to leave this cruel world.
He knew he would be at peace once it had ended.
Nobody would laugh at the colour of his skin,
nobody would be greedy with the only thing
he longed for - Love.

He endured the criticism and rejection,
he would forgive those who had hurt him.
I miss him.
Why did he go away and leave me to face
this uncaring world on my own?
Yet what did he have to live for?
Nothing compared to what he had to endure.

BLACK AND WHITE

Black and white stand stock still.
And black's eyes search through white's.
Hunting for that trace of spite,
That often leads to fights.

White and his mates just laugh and jeer,
They think they are so cool.
Black could never be "one of them".
They think he is a fool.

As black concludes he isn't wanted,
It happens every day.

Black can't seem to comprehend
Why the white endeavour,
To discriminate against his race,
Will it go on forever?

THE INNOCENT

A black boy lived in a rough neighbourhood but he was nicer to people than anybody should.

He was gentle and kind,
Considerate and fair.
When somebody would need him
he's always be there.

But his life was a hard one,
full of sadness and grief,
for he was wrongly arrested for being a thief.

The police were not gentle,
but brutal and cruel
to the young black boy who was just out of school.

One fateful night,
while returning back home,
he walked down a street where the knife gangs roam.

Then the poor black boy was killed in a fight,
because of his skin,
by a large group of white.

THE KU KLUX KLAN

There was a full summer moon, when 20
figures in white,
Lit a flame from a lighter and burned God's cross in spite.
An eerie chanting floated high above the clearing,
To all the Jews, Blacks and Asians in hearing.

The Klan had come again!

Children and adults alike cowered in their beds,
As dark and evil images ran wildly through their heads.
A black mother woke up to find her child
screaming,
She lied, "It's...OK, it's...OK, you were just dreaming."

The Klan had come again!

Outside through the dark, dusty streets the Klan proceeded,
And their threats and taunts were silently heeded.
They cried out through the night, "No
Abortion, No to Drugs!"
But what they meant was really, "Kill Blacks
- No Thugs!"

THE PREJUDICE ODIUM

The prejudice odium lays down the laws,
In all kinds of racial wars.
NO black "mates" they say,
Coloured people they hate.

Said to be fit only for eternal servitude,
Used and abused,
Hung in the prejudice noose,
Asking for compliance is no use.

Always made to be "second rate",
The victims of that prejudice, hate.
Though said to have no worth,
They are deeply, deeply hurt.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

Throughout 1991 individual students from Room 4 have attempted and achieved a variety of personal objectives through an educational programme specifically tailored to their needs for a successful transition from a school environment to an "independent living - work" environment.

Specific components of the educational programme are development of literacy and numeracy skills, involvement in various recreational activities, extensive involvement in community service projects, preparing for further education, acquisition of special skills such as First Aid through St John Ambulance and an off campus social development course. Additionally all students take part in a continuous programme of work experience to develop their awareness and skills required in the work force and hopefully to enhance their chances of employment after leaving school.

At different times several of the Room 4 students have experienced work and community service at one or more of the following places: City of Stirling, Karrynup Library, St Vincent de Paul, Cottage Homes, Qantas Catering Service, Kott

Gunning Barristers and Solicitors, Osborne Park Hospital, Foodlands at Woodlands, Topp-Nott Hairdressers, Catherine McAuley Daycare Centre, Woodlands Childcare, Moolanda Childcare, Meals on Wheels, Lloyds Smash Repairs, Homes for the Aged, W.A. Salvage, Coles Fossey, Hire All and Sale, Emmanuel Centre, Timewest, Miss Maudes, CCA Snack Foods and Nappy service.

When not involved in work off campus, Room 4 students have spent some time developing their entrepreneurial skills at the school through the operation of a lolly packaging business that supplies orders to the Jaycees. The students are paid a nominal wage for their effort.

Finally, mention ought to be made of the fact that several Room 4 students have at different times achieved awards, recognition or prizes through successful participation in sport, in a competition sponsored by Stirling City Council and through a display of their artistic talent at the 1991 Osborne Park Show. Most of the students won prizes for their craft and cooking items that were entered in the Show. So in many ways, students of Room 4 have enjoyed quite a degree of personal success in a full and varied programme during the past twelve months.

MY WORK EXPERIENCE

Over the last two years a large part of my Transition Course has been preparation for employment. I have done several different Work Experiences and it is hard to decide which I like most.

CATHERINE McAULEY DAYCARE CENTRE - I have just completed two weeks at the Catherine McAuley Daycare Centre. My duties consisted of helping to set out activities and aiding staff. I toileted the children, changed them, read stories and sang songs to them. At twelve o'clock I served lunch. I helped pat some children to sleep. Sometimes I swept up and washed the floor. Occasionally I put art-work away in their lockers. I washed up and wiped up. I like to help serve lunch to the children.

When the children woke up I asked them to sit down with their clothes and shoes. I helped put track-pants, jumpers and shoes on. We packed the beds up in the room they slept in. They played for a little while and then had afternoon tea. After that we took them outside till about 5.15. They stayed inside if it was raining.

On my last day we had a party for morning tea. The children really enjoyed that very much. In the afternoon while the children were doing an activity St Antoninus, Mrs Bogoiias and Sr Mary came to visit me. While they were there the Daycare staff presented me with a bouquet of flowers to thank me for my two weeks of Work Experience. I was thrilled with the excellent report I received.

KOTT GUNNING - It has been a while since I had Work Experience at Kott Gunning. It was great working there. Kott Gunning is a Barristers and Solicitors office. I did several different jobs. I worked in reception the most and learnt different skills. In reception I learnt how to ring a courier. We entered into a book all incoming and out going mail. When we get servings we write that in a book.

I also worked in accounts. My jobs were typing out time sheets and putting them away. I also went to the bank to get money. One time I went to accounts and I typed out a letter. I did photocopying for Rebecca sometimes. On my last day I did Wordprocessing. After lunch I worked with Rebecca. Before I went home I said goodbye and thank-you to Mrs Anne Lake and Rebecca.

KARRINYUP LIBRARY - I worked at Karrinyup Library every Friday last year for the fourth term. I worked with Lucy most of the time. My jobs were, discharging books, filing away books, fiction and non fiction and fixing up the children's corner etc. I enjoyed doing discharging with Lucy. In the afternoons I worked upstairs sticking stickers on new books. At the end of the term I did a full week of Work Experience. I found the whole week valuable and learned how the Library system works.

QANTAS CATERING SERVICES - At Qantas I do different things. I roll towels and fold napkins. Sometimes I shine cutlery or work on the conveyor belts. At our morning tea break we run to the hot chocolate machine.

MEALS ON WHEELS - At Meals and Wheels my main job was cutting up vegetables. I also helped wash up and wipe up. A couple of times I worked on a conveyor for the desserts.

COTTAGE HOMES - Cottage Homes is a home for the aged. I enjoyed working there. I had various jobs such as talking to the old people, getting them tea or coffee. One day I went with them to the craft room where they make baskets. I visited them in their rooms to talk. On my last day I received a box of toffees.

WOODLANDS CHILDCARE CENTRE - I worked at the Woodlands Childcare Centre every Thursday for the fourth term. I started work at eight thirty in the morning and finished at four o'clock in the afternoon. In the morning the children stayed inside until nine o'clock. While the children were doing activities Leanne and I swept up the play ground and set up the play equipment. The work I did at the Woodlands Childcare Centre helped me to decide what I would do for a career and was a great preparation for my longer experience at the Catherine McAuley Daycare Centre.

MY WORK EXPERIENCE

I have enjoyed a number of work experiences during the last twelve months. It is hard to know which one I liked best.

KOTT GUNNING - My first work experience was at Kott Gunning which is a law office. I worked there for one day a week for the term and a whole week at the end. Some of my jobs there were to write the out going mail into a book, make tea and coffee, ring the couriers, photocopying, switchboard and word processing. My main job was working with Rebecca at Reception. I worked with Fiona doing servings which are documents that get signed by other law firms. But the part of this job that I liked best was word processing. The manager of this work experience was Mrs Anne Lake who was very friendly and helpful to me. I enjoyed this type of work very much.

CHILDCARE - Woodlands Child Care Centre is a place for children aged between 1 to 5. They were so cute that I sat with them while they were eating their lovely lunch that Marge had made, also when they had a story read to them. My jobs while I was there were minding the pre-school children while the little ones had a rest, looking after the children out-side, washing and drying dishes. In this work experience I learnt how to work with children. The part of this job that I liked the best was being with children. I would enjoy this sort of work when I leave school.

KARRINYUP LIBRARY - At the Karrinyup Library I did several jobs. The job I did most of all was discharging, which is marking people's books off the computer. I also did a job for Margaret and that job was cutting the letters of the alphabet from different coloured cardboard. I also helped Margaret at the children's story time by helping the children with the activity which was entitled "At the Beach." The children were given a piece of cardboard and made a picture with yellow sand and blue and green cellophane. In this work experience I learnt how to discharge books and how to communicate with the public. The part of this job that I liked the best was discharging.

TOPP NOTT - Topp-Nott is a Hairdressing Salon which has four workers. Their names are Lette, Melinda, Christine and Marie. When I am there I sweep the floor, clean basins and mirrors and make tea and coffee. Sometimes I clean the back room. This salon is at Innaloo and there is also a salon in Mount Hawthorn. In this work experience I am learning how to wash hair, blot perms and care for the premises.

QANTAS - At Qantas I work in the catering section with Don, rolling face washers. I put them on trays in three columns and I put eleven in each column to make each tray have a total of 33 face washers. I also roll wet face washers and place them into foil trays which hold four on the side, eleven on the bottom, ten on top of them to have a total of 25 face washers. Then these are placed in the fridge.

CHIP AND LISA - THE EARTHWORMS

It had rained for days and days. Chip was flooded out of his underground house. Lisa was no where to be seen and Chip had to find dry land. The water pulled Chip along in his tiny leaf-boat, hunting for Lisa. Along the way Chip saw some grasshoppers. Chip yelled out, "Have you seen an earthworm with yellow hair?" "No, we haven't but can you get help?" the grasshoppers said, "We are too wet to fly." "O.K." said Chip. Chip heard two voices. He looked around and saw two caterpillars. They were yelling "Help, our cocoons are full of water." "Climb higher and I'll try to get help, but have you seen a green earthworm with yellow hair?" Since the caterpillars hadn't seen Lisa, Chip continued to hunt for her. Chip passed a flower bed, where Chip asked some bees if they had seen Lisa, but they hadn't. The bees needed some dry nectar so Chip said he would come and get them when he found dry flowers. The leaf-boat rushed down a gentle slope. Chip leaned over the side to see how deep it was. Chip saw lots of goldfish swimming in circles. Chip asked them if they had seen Lisa but they hadn't. The goldfish were lost and Chip said he would come back with help. The water stopped rushing at the bottom of the hill. Chip saw some snails on top of the fence. Chip asked them if they had seen Lisa. They hadn't but they needed a dry place to sit since the water was rising fast. As Chip's boat passed beneath a tree seven little ladybirds tumbled down beside him. They were glad to have found a rescuer. Chip asked them if they had seen Lisa. They hadn't but they were going to help on his search. Chip and the ladybirds saw some frogs playing leap-frog on a garden chair. Chip asked them if they could help him. In no time they had the leaf-boat tied to the leg of the garden chair. Chip told the frogs about how he was caught in the flood. The frogs told him that what he needs is food, shelter and a bigger boat. Just then two sparrows swooped low overhead and perched on the seat above Chip and the frogs. Chip asked them and the frogs had they seen Lisa. This time though one of the sparrows had. They were also ready to get all the animals together with food and ready to make a bigger boat with shelter. The sparrow that had told where Lisa was sent to get her. The rest went to get the other animals. Chip helped everyone on the seat but the goldfish. One of the frogs led them back to their pond. The birds came back with enough sticks for a raft for everyone. Again and again the sparrow's flew away to return with something new and different. One trip each bird brought back enough stalks of wheat for the hungry grasshoppers to share. When the sparrow's flew down, Chip and Lisa saw that they had lots of grains of seeds. A good supply for any creature who ate that sort of food. The rain stopped pouring and came to a steady drizzle. Everyone felt better, especially now they were all together.

The birds went on another trip this time bringing back berries. The next time each bird arrived carrying tender green leaves. That would last the snails and caterpillars on the long journey. Immediately the birds turned around and took off again. This time they came back with long blades of grass. The grass was to hold the things together in the water. At last Chip's raft was finished. They pushed it into the water. Chip checked the food supply. Then he realised they had forgotten the shelter on board. So the sparrow's took off again. They came back with bits of straw. The animals got on the raft very excited. Chip had found out a way to steer the boat. "If we make a really strong daisy chain our good friends the sparrow's could pull us to dry land," Lisa said, "and the frogs could pull through the water." Finally they were ready for the trip. The raft moved off and slowly gathered speed. The sun suddenly broke through the clouds. Chip and Lisa were headed, with all their new friends, for sunshine and safety.

MR NICK'S KNITTING

Mr Nick loved to knit. He would knit all day long. He knitted all of his clothes and he would knit clothes for other people too. One morning Mr Nick decided that he wanted to knit something unusual. A pink elephant, he thought. No, that wasn't very unusual. How about a patched quilt. No, that wasn't very unusual either. Mr Nick thought and thought for two days. Finally on a Wednesday he came up with a great idea. He would knit a giant book. It would have zips and buttons and pockets and everything else he could think of. Mr Nick worked very hard on his giant book. It had alligators and birds and lots of other animals. Mr Nick worked for one whole month every day. Finally, Mr Nick's book was finished. The alligator's mouth could open and close. The birds could flap their wings and all the other animals could move in some way as well. Mr Nick showed his book to some of his young friends. They all loved it and they spent hours and hours opening and closing the pockets and zips and reading it. They thought it was great. Mr Nick was so happy that they liked it so much that he knitted a copy of his book for each of them. When Mr Nick had finally finished knitting the giant books for all of his young friends he went back to knitting clothes for himself.

UNLUCKY WILLY

Willy Curk has a nickname that suits him very well. It is Unlucky Willy. His main problems are his big red ears that stick out, his buck teeth, his short skinny knobby legs and his big red dripping nose. If Willy goes to Hungry Jacks he is bound to get stale fries and hamburgers made the day before.

If Willy ever goes on a holiday he gets the worst room in the hotel for a very high price. The room usually has mice in it and the maids will have forgotten to change the sheets from the last person.

If Willy uses the toilet there it will block up and overflow.

At breakfast the next morning there will be a very beautiful lady sitting opposite him...with a husband.

If Willy goes swimming in the lake the swans will get him.

If Willy goes swimming at the beach he always gets caught in a rip. When he is getting out Willy will get dumped by a huge wave.

If Willy goes to a restaurant he will get food that is mouldy, or will be sitting next to someone who puts what they don't like on the table cloth.

If Willy gets an apple from the garden it is bound to have fruitfly.

If Willy ever goes camping he always puts his tent up next to an anthill.

One day Willy decided his clothes were daggy so he bought some skimpy speedos. But when he went to the beach he forgot his drawstring.

Even though Willy is a major dag there are still two people in the world who love him.

They are Willy's Mum and Dad.

THE TUNNEL

Once upon a time there lived a brother and sister who were twins and every day they would play together.

Each day they would decide on what they would do together. Some days they would play with friends, other days they would stay home and read books together.

One morning they decided to go for a walk. Their mother said they had to be home for lunch so to make it a short walk.

When they got to the park Tom and Rose found a tunnel and they decided to explore it.

The tunnel was dirty, damp and smelly. Rose began to cry.

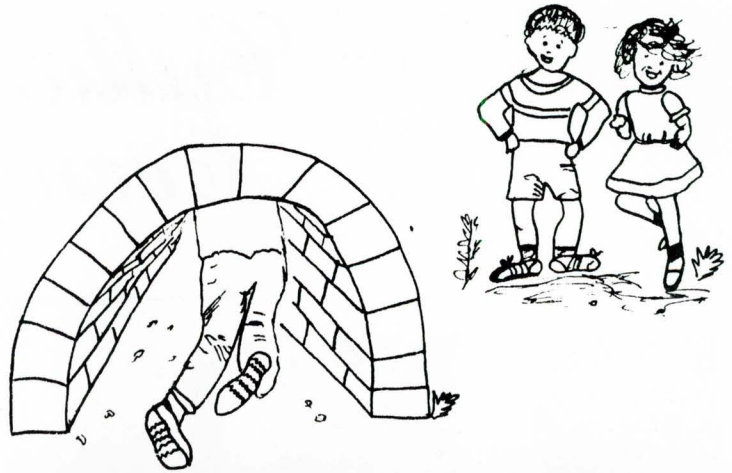

When Tom and Rose came to the end of the tunnel they saw the most beautiful house they had ever seen.

Tom and Rose stood staring at the house made out of different sorts of candy.

Tom and Rose stayed at the house so long they lost track of the time. When they realised what time it was they had eaten half of the house.

They raced home at once. When their mother asked where Tom and Rose had been they smiled and said a secret tunnel.

BILL AND THE BUNYIP

It was around a campfire where Bill first heard of the Blue Lake Bunyip. He was only 12 then but as he grew into a man of twenty-one he longed to find the great mythical creature which nobody had yet seen. He had heard many stories of the bunyip but wanted to find the truth.

Today he was leaving his small home town of Waratah to search for this great legendary monster.

He was told to search around the Blue Lake so this was where he was heading.

The Blue Lake was a huge lake with beautiful blue, shining water and thick bush all around it. The lake was very far away from Waratah so it took Bill many days to get there.

When Bill finally arrived he set up camp on the banks of the great Blue Lake.

Bill searched all day for the bunyip but couldn't find a trace of him. He began to wonder if there really was bunyip, but if there was, Bill was going to find it.

Night came and Bill made a fire. As he was falling asleep Bill heard a rustling from behind some bushes. He slowly got up and crept over there. Suddenly the bunyip leapt out of the bushes and shouted "Boo!" Bill was so frightened he turned and ran for his life.

After running for a while Bill thought maybe the monster was just scaring people for fun and didn't really want to hurt anyone. Bill crept cautiously back to his camp and saw the bunyip rolling on the ground laughing. Bill thought he was right so he went up to the bunyip who was still laughing and said, "Hello."

That was the last mistake Bill ever made. Bill was never seen again.

Cultural Evening

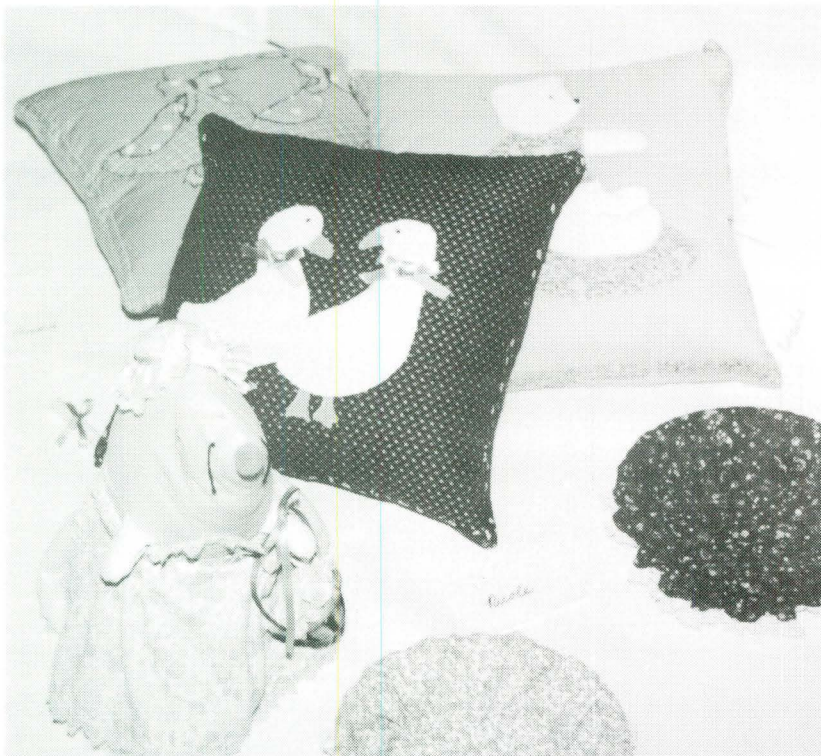

Ben Towers-Hammond displaying his art -work.

The Cultural Evening provided to be a success again this year and was a chance to display our school's talents on areas of art, clothing and fabrics, music and theatre arts.

The Concert Band commenced the evening with a medley of songs followed by individual performances and "The Broadcast" by Theatre Arts students.

After the interval there were various musical and dance acts and an excerpt from "The Happiest Days of Our Lives".

As well as the dramatic performances there was a large display of Art and Clothing and Fabrics products by students.

GOLD is beauty and fame,
GREEN is like grass and trees,
PINK is like knobbly knees,
WHITE is pale as a ghost,
BLACK is lots of burnt toast,
BLUE is the sea and sky,
YELLOW is a butterfly.
Colours are all over the world.
By Sharmini Thursisingam

Bright ORANGE colours are our sunsets,
Shades of GREEN colours are our world,
BLUES are the colours filling our school,
YELLOW colours are our brightest days,
GREY colours are our darkest days.
By David Lawrence

HOUSE SWIMMING

1991 Year Champions l-r: Chantel Condelli, Zac Farrer (Year 8), Michaela Hughes, Mark Dimmock (Year 9).

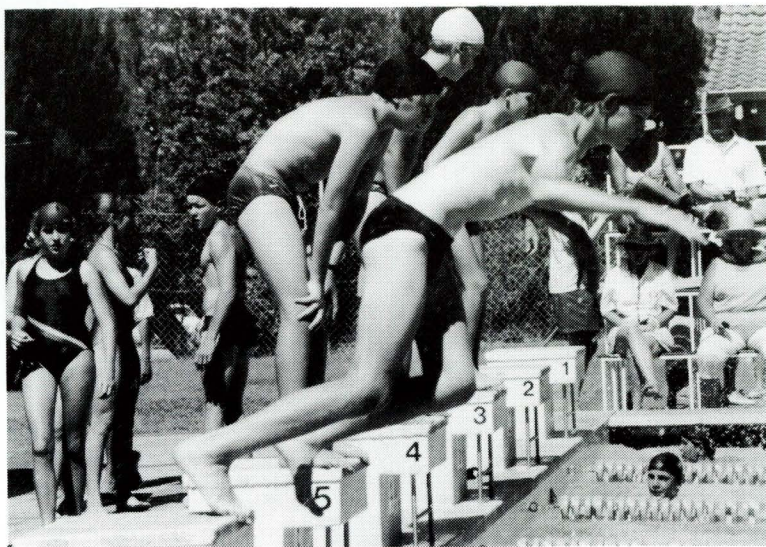

Red boys are really into cheering!

Vivian Hunt

Kristy O'Connor

Help! I'm falling!

The day was hot (all umbrellas were much appreciated); but as always the competition was hotter!

Blue looked like repeating last year's performance by winning the first event. However, as it turned out Green and Red tied for first place, something which has not happened recently.

Results:

1st:	Red and Green	1128 points

Newman Siena Boys' Tennis – 1991

Tennis attracted seventeen players for the season. The fact that we needed only eight players for each weekly fixture allowed us to select a reasonably strong A team and field a B team which changed pretty well each week. The emphasis was on playing tennis in the correct sporting manner; offering our boys the experience of meeting members of other college teams and above all, on being team minded. We had a few learning situations, which is what sport is all about.

At the end of the season, the A team had won three fixtures, drawn one and lost three. Our B team won three fixtures and lost four. Congratulations are due to our Tennis Team Captain, Russell Clarke, for a job well done. Thanks, too, are extended to our bus drivers each week and to coaches Mr Peter Sharpe and Brother Austin Redden.
